ELIGIBILITY & CRITERIA FOR SELECTION

To be considered, nominees must meet the following requirements:
1) At least 90 semester hours earned from all institutions (with at least 45 semester hours earned at UNCG) as of January 2019. Hours of academic credit earned abroad while a student at UNCG should be included as UNCG hours. December 2018 graduates who meet these criteria are eligible.
2) A UNCG aggregate grade point average of at least 3.80.

Awards are based on submitted specific evidence of academic excellence presented in the nomination form, two supporting faculty recommendations, and student curriculum vitae. This evidence should demonstrate the student’s engagement in
- Creativity, initiative, and/or perseverance inside and outside the classroom;
- Significant service and leadership at the university;
- Other ways of enriching communities on and beyond campus.

Evidence of these accomplishments is usually demonstrated inside the classroom by the achievement of high grades and the superior completion of specific projects and assignments. Outside the classroom evidence typically includes such activities as independent research and other creative activities, study abroad, and community involvement that are linked to the student’s academic studies.
